BALTIMORE 29.—There was a battle yesterday in the Little Choptank river near its mouth between the man-of-war Governor Thomas, of the oyster navy, on one side, and fourteen dredging vessels on the other. Unlike most of these conflicts it was not altogether bloodless. A negro named Gas Castus, whose home is at Eastville, Northampton county, Va., was fatally shot in the stomach. is considered by the farmers in this district that the action of the committee of the Agricultural Society in advising the election of six life directors and of the members in adopting such resolution will be detrimental to the interests of the society. ## GERMAN SENSATION.

Extracts from the Alleged Diary of the Late Emperor.

THEY READ AS IF AUTHENTIC.

We Tell of the Preliminaries to the French War—Suddenness of the War—Surprise at the Mismanagement of the French Successive Victories—Sedan—Affecting Account of Emperor Napoleon—The German Princes Debate at Versailles—King William Proclaimed Emperor—Surrender of Paris—The Crown Prince Returns Home.

The sensation of the day in Europe is the publication of the late Emperor Frederick's diary. Though he was emperor but a short time, this diary goes far to prove that he, more than his father, the noted Emperor Wilhelm, was the real author of German national unity. Appended are the principal portions of the record most interesting to Americans:

July 11, 1870.—"Bischof very serious; scarcely know how to manage between Ems, Varzin and Ligny—no time to get his instructions. The hereditary prince is in the Alps. The French charge d'affaires, Lescour, says, in presence of the Spanish minister, nobody being there to treat us will leave."

July 12.—Conversation with Bismarck, who received late at night on the 12th the news that the hereditary prince had resounded, and he, therefore, believes peace to be assured; wants to return to Varzin; seems surprised by the change to Paris; Gortchakov is also peaceful, although he has just received the news that France desires guarantees for the future. This would have to be waited for, but this point also would be settled. He admires our behavior, that of the hereditary prince and our press; he would take care that the great European cabinets recognized it. Meanwhile I hear from Paris it is stated that Napoleon said to one of his former ministers that at the present moment the affairs of Spain are unimportant; the great question was the struggle for the possession of power between Prussia and France.

July 14.—Confirmation of the warlike news.

July 15.—Bismarck says to me that he,
with Roon and Moltke, is going to Brandenburg to meet the king; on the way he explained with great clearness and dignified seriousness and without his usual favorite little jokes, his view of the state of our relation with France, so that now it becomes clear to me that giving in for peace's sake has become by this time impossible. The strength and constitution of the French army are considered by him and Moltke as nothing extraordinary.

July 16.—Three armies are being formed.
I shall have to command that of South Germany. I have, therefore, the most difficult task with these unfriendly troops, and am by no means contented in our school to fight so able an antagonist as the French army will be, which has been so long prepared,
and will certainly invade Southern Germany
at once.

GERMANY RISES.

July 17.—General enthusiasm. Germany rises like one man and will establish her unity.

July 18.—I receive my official appointment. Opening of the Reichstag; drive with the king to Charlottenburg on the anniversary of the death of Queen Louise, where we pray for a considerable time, and with very heavy hearts at the tomb of the grandparents.
On leaving I send to my father that a flight undertaken under such circumstances must succeed. Quiet afternoon with wife and children.

July 19.—The Duke of Coburg comes from Flame and desires an appointment in a reserve corps or in the grand duchies of the Elbe, eventually on my staff.

July 20.—No queen arrives, moved by the entreaties on the Rhine; my staff is being organized at Potsdam; Bavarian bivouac; all is quiet, something is busy, but we must leave our Prussian army. In the cathedral, in the first tiering took place between the son of our beloved Princess Alexandra and me. Touching service. Moltke telegrams: "I shall, as soon as the troops from Vienna are gone, proceed southward on the Elbe bank and attack, in order to prevent a battle being fought at Lüttichburg. I am not yet able to do that, but everywhere possible I secure again, since the Prussians are there."

July 21.—I have a presentiment that with this war there will arrive an end of battles and bloodshed. For the present, however, my soldier's heart good: "With God, forward! and firmly forward!" My headmaster is much increasing that I must divide it into two parts, the first of which contains all those who are destined in service.

Aug. 2.—I am concentrating my army;
the Prussians are already ready.

Aug. 3.—I now let them into the Rhine. Lambent smoke and smoke tomorrow, probably a fight; today, however,
William II has come to us.

CALGARY MISREPRESENTED.

Mr. James A. Brae, Secretary of the Canadian Pacific Colonization Corporation, 9 Victoria Chambers, publishes in the press the following statement of the advantages of the Northwest estate of the Corporation from an emigrant's point of view.

"Emigration is now a leading branch of philanthropic patriotism. We wish, in the interests of settlers, to make it known that for those with moderate means, arrangements for supervised and protected emigration to the Alberta region of the Canadian Northwest are being made by this Corporation. Having secured the very pick of that region, with experienced agents on the spot, we can direct their choice with extraordinary advantages. I may add that our territories comprise:—

"1. Unrivalled elements of agricultural wealth in climate and water, natural shelter, contour of country, and exuberant fertility of soil.

"2. Similar elements of mineral wealth in coal at easily workable depths, this fertile surface lying in the very clip of the vast Bow river coal basin ("anthracite"), more valuable than the common sort, with abundance of capital building stone and potters' and bricklayers' clay.

"3. Plenty of good and cheap labour, secured by the tact and influence of our local agent, to develop both those previous elements.

"Thus, capitalists find every condition locally present to ensure highly lucrative returns. The experience of three seasons confirms the relative mildness of the climate. Frost, with 10° of one inch, was found in and near Calgary, a city miles west, and similarly in Manitoba to the east, during September and October, whereas our "happy valley," up to mid October, had not a touch of frost. Thus, wheat can be ripened with security against being frozen on the stalk. Our harvest was all in by October 4th. It has cost us much to establish the truth of these particulars, and we wish them generally known.

The Canadian Gazette commenting on this announcement, tersely remarks:— "What is here said as to the "happy valley" may be accurate enough, but Mr. Brae can rest assured that his comparisons with Calgary and Manitoba will meet with an emphatic challenge from each of those districts. Surely to establish one's own character it is not necessary to attempt to blacken that of one's neighbors."

On behalf of the Calgary district, the HERALD challenges the statement. It is true that we had a slight frost in September, but so slight as to have scarcely affected vegetable growth. It was well on towards the end of October before there was a severe enough frost to produce ice an inch thick, and by that time all crops were in and fall ploughing finished.

We feel confident that Mr. Brae will merely require this hint to make the statement honorable. It is sincerely to be hoped however that those interested in any district of the Territories will soon stop the ridiculous practice of running down other parts of the country than those in which they are immediately interested. A little thought must convince those who have made such a mistake, that the character of the whole country is injured by their too often ungenerous comparisons.

WANTED A PUBLIC LIBRARY.

The letter of His Worship, Mayor Shelton, published in another column is well worthy of attention. The subject His Worship refers to is one to which the HERALD has several times referred, having made practically the same suggestion that the mayor now puts forward in so practical a way. It should be the ambition of the people of Calgary to make of their town the intellectual, as well as the commercial centre of the Northwest. Culture and trade must go together, and the record of modern progress proves that the latter cannot be sustained without the former. Up to this time Calgary appears to have sadly neglected the promotion of educational agencies. We have fine institutions for the education of the young, it is true; but we have positively no facilities for the development of the intellectual faculties of those of mature age. In this respect we are allowing ourselves to be distanced by smaller towns in the Territories, a fact brought home to the writer by the receipt, the other day, of a neat pamphlet containing the inaugural address of the President of a promising historical society established at Lethbridge.

Thanks to the energy of His Lordship, the Bishop of Calgary, a new interest is being awakened in Calgary as to the question of facilities for intellectual improvement; and now that public attention is directed to the question of the higher education of young women, would it not be a good time to press the necessity for providing means for young men to improve themselves. As it is now, our young men, and all of our population of mature years for the matter of that, have practically no means of improving themselves. The bowling alley, billiard rooms and saloons with all of their demoralizing influences are now the only places where young men can look for enjoyment.

The fact that a large proportion of our population consists of single men, makes the need existing for some attractive public resort of high character all the more apparent.

A public library would just fill the bill. Books are attractive and the establishment of such an institution as that suggested by the mayor would, we feel sure, be of great advantage to all of our citizens and a dangerous competitor to the establishments which at present monopolize the spare time and absorb the spare cash of too many of our young men.

It is to be hoped that His Worship, before the expiration of his term of office will take steps towards placing a project for the establishment of a public library, in Calgary, in some practical shape. The present requirement could be met by a very small beginning, for such an institution rapidly expands.

The HERALD is willing to do its share, and will devote to any public library, all of the books and magazines received for review, besides giving any other assistance in its power.

Let us hear from our readers as to suggestions for the establishment and support of such an institution.

THE CATTLE QUARANTINE STATE.

The Dominion Government has acted exactly as the HERALD predicted it would. It has refused to be bulldozed into sacrificing the important and rapidly increasing stock interests of Alberta for the sake of the American rancher. In other words, the Government knowing such action as that asked for would be disastrous to the native stock industry, refuses to entertain the proposal to remove the quarantine against American cattle at the frontier merely for the purpose of rendering a service to United States stockmen.

It is to be regretted that we have had papers so blind to the best interests of this country as to support the United States cattlemen in their design against Alberta's principal industry, and it is more to be regretted that some of these papers have adopted rather unscrupulous methods to support the American demand and have endeavored to show that the establishment of the quarantine was never necessary and was established merely to satisfy the selfish schemes of friends of the government.

Of course this is all humbug, pure and simple. To secure the privilege of placing our cattle alive on the British market the quarantine had to be established. The Dominion Government had merely to decide whether we should have hordes of American cattle cropping Alberta's ranges, providing cheaper meat for our American cousins, or whether the advantages of the British Market should be preserved for our native industry. The Government decided for the latter, and who is there in Alberta, not under the thumb of the Yankee capitalists, who will not say that it did right?

The attempt to prove to Eastern Canadians that the quarantine is a needless obstacle to the ranch industry, imposed through the machinations of Dr. McEachran, the Dominion Veterinary Inspector, for selfish purposes, is as nonsensical as it is untrue. If the quarantine is due to Dr. McEachran's suggestion, all credit to him; for he has then been a benefactor to Alberta.

The people of Alberta have sincere cause to be grateful that the government refused to allow itself to have dust thrown in its eyes and its attention diverted from the issue at stake by those who have been so industriously attempting to blacken the reputation of one of its ablest public officials.

It is sincerely to be hoped that the Dominion government will take some steps towards establishing a quarantine against American horses at the frontier.

Experience during the past summer has shown conclusively that the free admission of American horses to Alberta is a serious menace to our important horse raising industry. Nearly every band of horses brought into the country from across the line brought some disease with them. One large ranch between here and Macleod lost eight or ten fine colts from glanders contracted from a band of American horses which were running in the neighborhood. Another ranch lost several horses through a horrible form of "Indian itch," which they caught from some recent importations. Again it is a matter of common notoriety that the whole of the horses of the Mounted Police at Lethbridge contracted a virulent type of epidemic from some American horses smuggled into Alberta and the police stables had to be quarantined. Similar cases, practically without number could be given, but this should be sufficient to show that there should be something done to protect such an important industry as that of horse raising from dangerous diseases imported from across the lines.

We understand that some of the leading ranchers are interesting themselves in this matter and that they are forwarding a memorial to Ottawa, asking for the establishment of a quarantine against American horses. It is to be hoped that the government will see its way to grant the petition, and promptly.

THE GRIST MILL PROJECT.

The question of establishing a grist at Calgary, to be submitted to the council at its meeting tomorrow evening is one of great importance, and well worthy the consideration of all classes of the community. The matter is of such immediate importance to the town that steps should be taken at once in the direction of securing the desired privilege. The matter should be thoroughly discussed, however, and a decision arrived at, as speedily as possible. That the question might be gone into thoroughly at once, and a decision arrived at, would not be a good idea for the citizens to attend the council meeting tomorrow evening in force, thus practically making of it a mass meeting? Public opinion seems to be strongly in favor of the scheme, and the public discussion of the subject in the way suggested would be calculated to strengthen the hands of the council and to assist them in arriving at a decision. We feel confident that the council would agree to this course being followed. At any rate, tomorrow's meeting will be well worth attending.

MINING MACHINERY AND DUTIES.

An Ottawa dispatch states that Mr. E. T. Galt, general manager of the Northwest Coal and Navigation company, of Lethbridge, N. W. T., had an interview with the commissioner of customs lately. The company intended importing a diamond drill for mining purposes in connection with their works. The drill, under the tariff, will come in free, but the machinery required in connection with it is dutiable, and Galt is anxious to secure free entry for the whole.

It is to be hoped that the government will see its way clear to place all machinery for the development of mines on the free list. At present such machinery cannot be produced in Canada and consequently no native industry is protected by the duty. What might soon be developed into a giant industry—that of mining—is seriously impeded. Nothing but the difficulty, (practically impossible) of procuring suitable machinery is keeping back mining in the Rockies.

CALL A PUBLIC MEETING.

The project for establishing a public library in Calgary is meeting with general commendation. Several of the speakers at the St. Andrews Society dinner Friday advocated the establishment of a library here, and no remarks made during the evening were more enthusiastically received by those present.

In view of the very general interest taken in the matter, the mayor should call a public meeting to discuss the matter.

ALL SORTS OF THINGS.

The editor of the Mark-Lane Express, who has also just returned from an extended tour in Canada, writes:—"Day after day I traversed new territory, covering in all upwards of 2,000 miles. Yet I feel as if I had but touched the fringe of a limitless country. Of all the vaunted wonders with which Nature has enriched it, nothing, perhaps, is so striking as the great expense of unoccupied land stretching out in all directions. Such is the condition of millions of acres of the finest agricultural land that ever met the coyote's gleam or bore the hero of the plough."

A despatch from Ottawa states that an official report shows that 250 members of the Mounted police have savings bank accounts aggregating $25,000. The showing does credit to the force.

Snow drifts ten feet deep, railway traffic stopped, wires down and people frozen on the streets. Such was the report from Ontario and Quebec, Wednesday. In Alberta we had blue skies, warm sunshine, and a temperature tempting people into the open air without overcoats or wraps. Could a greater contrast be imagined.

We in Calgary are a long way from Toronto. Still, however, we are Canadians, and as proud as O'Connor's fellow citizens that he has brought the sculling championship of the continent back to Canada.

It will only cost the Northwest $10,000 to take a vote on the liquor question. The amount will come out of the road and bridge fund. The temperance people, however desire to squander it in this manner, and we suppose they must have their own way.—Medicine Hat Times.

It will be satisfactory to the dealers in Canadian cheese, as well as to its consumers, who are numerous, says an English paper, to know that no less than $1,837 cwt. of cheese were imported from Canada into Great Britain in 1887, or one-third of the whole quantity imported.

A successful ranchman should live on the ranch himself, make his own butter, raise his own hay, corn and fodder, and have horses, mules and cattle always for sale at seasons of high prices. He will be a poor customer of the loan and mortgage companies, but will be courted by the cash merchants, and his children will never be dubbed as "country jakes." —Texas Live Stock Journal.

The London Morning Post of 16th October, contains a two columned article from the pen of Dr. Freeman, its agricultural editor, (who visited Calgary last August,) singing the praises of Alberta as a settlers paradise, and the same paper in its issue of 24th October has devoted a leading article in praise of Canada and the Northwest.

THE ASSEMBLY.

REGINA Monday 26.—The business today included several important questions. Following petitions were presented by Mr. Tweed asking for a bridge over Ross Creek on the road from Medicine Hat to Laramore, by Mr. Keaman from settlers from Saltcoats asking for a courthouse & sittings of court, by Mr. Davidson from the council of Indian Head asking that a deer hunting by-law be legalized. Mr. Turriff for the agricultural committee reported on a petition from Alameda which had been referred, written and recommended that the Dominion government be memorialized to grant compensation to settlers whose horses had been destroyed for glanders during the summer, created somewhat of a sensation. Messrs Thorburn & Neff said they were members of the committee but they had no recollection of any such report passing the committee.

Mr. Turriff said there had been no vote on the report and it was perhaps a little out of order, but he had consulted all the members of the committee except perhaps two. Mr. Ross submitted the report of the committee appointed to propose a scheme for taking a vote on the liquor question. The report was based on the late elections. There were 152 polling places, & of these, seven were in the Prince Albert district, which would require a great expense for travelling about. From two to three months should be allowed to elapse between the issuing of the proclamation and the voting. 3000 pamphlets should be printed, giving full information as to the manner of voting etc—the pamphlets to cost $350. The total cost of the vote at the 144 polling places would be $1758, and for the polling places at Prince Albert $529. The committee recommended further that the Assembly define the words prohibition and license. After some discussion it was resolved that the report be cyclostyled and distributed.

The following notices were given by Mr. Jelly: That he will tomorrow move, seconded by Mr. Mitchell, that Messrs. Lineham, Ross, and the mover and seconder be a committee on the best means of bringing high class horses and cattle into the Territories; further that he will move on the same day that the questions of second homestead, tree planting and a land board for the Territories be referred to the miscellaneous committee. By Mr. Chinkskill that he will tomorrow move that the resolution respecting judicial districts be referred to the memorial committee.

By Mr. Tweed—that he will ask when the estimates will be laid on the table.

By Mr. Davidson—that he will introduce a bill to legalize by-law of Indian Head.

By Mr. Turriff, that he will move that the Dominion government be asked to advance seed grain to settlers who have lost their crops.

On motion, Messrs. Justice McLeod and Brett were excused from attendance.

Mr. Secord asked the advisory council whether they intended to introduce an ordinance introducing the ballot into elections to the Assembly. Mr. Haultain replied that the advisory board did not consider that matters of general legislation like this did not come under their special jurisdiction.

The House went into committee of the whole on the prairie fire ordinance, which received one or two amendments. Clause No. 1 was referred to the legal experts for opinion as to whether it is ultra vires.

After changing the chairmen, the committee proceeded to discuss the municipal ordinance. Clauses 215, 216, 217, 218, 219, 220 and 223 were replaced—a change made necessary by the substitution of the treasurer for the sheriff in case of tax sales. The advertising of these sales will now be in the hands of the treasurer, who is instructed to place the advertisement in a paper within the municipality, or in such paper as the council of the municipality shall direct. The exemption clauses were amended so as to agree with the amended sections of the school ordinance on the same subject.

COMPULSORY EDUCATION.

With Mr. Tweed as chairman the school ordinance was materially amended. The principle of compulsory education was adopted on a vote of ten to eight. House adjourned at 5:30.

REGINA 28.—The business of Tuesday and Wednesday was important, but long discussions have prevented decisions. The report of the committee on the liquor question occupied two afternoons and tonight. The question as to the constitutionality of a vote was referred to the legal experts. Cayley, Haultain and others oppose a vote being taken by the Assembly. Several members are opposed to a ballot vote on account of the expense.

The committee's report places the whole expense of the vote at $3,000, but the members believe this is too low an estimate.

The question of compulsory education is not yet settled. Mr. Richardson, of Wolseley, today introduced an amendment forcing under penalty the establishment of school districts wherever there are four heads of families and fifteen children of school age.

The subject of responsible government was referred to the memorial committee today on Tweed's motion.

REGINA Saturday 29.—The session has run into the last month of the year and still there is little intimation of its drawing to a close. The difficult problem of the prohibition license vote is still puzzling the legislative minds of the country and the question is watched from the press table there appears no probability of an immediate settlement. The opinion of the legal experts has apparently, as a northern member remarked from his seat, "knocked the Assembly cold."

The special committee on an election ordinance reported through Mr. Turriff and recommended that the Assembly adopt the principles laid down and a commission be appointed to draft a bill accordingly. The qualifications and principles set forth were similar to the old system with the introduction of the ballot and the changing of the residence qualification from one year to six months. After some discussion the committee rose and asked leave to meet again.

THE LIQUOR QUESTION.

The House resumed its discussion of the prohibition license vote in committee of the whole. Speeches occupying the whole afternoon were made by Messrs. Secord, Richardson, Bettis, Oliver, Haultain and others. The clause providing for the Assembly taking a vote was lost on a vote of 13 to 6. The committee rose.

A COLLEGE OF SURGEONS.

The bill respecting profession of medicine and surgery was further considered in committee of the whole. Dr. Brett in the chair. This ordinance is drafted and introduced by the member for Red Deer. It organizes the members of the medical fraternity into a body corporate under the name of "the College of Physicians and Surgeons of the Northwest Territories," which shall have perpetual succession, a common seal, and power to acquire, hold and dispose of property and real estate, and to sue and be sued. There shall be council of the college to be elected at Regina on the first Friday in February 1889. Every person practising medicine is compelled under a heavy fine to register under the ordinance and become a member of the college. The bill consists of fifteen pages and is a very elaborate affair.

ORDINANCES PASSED.

In committee of the whole the following bills were passed:—Chap. 6, infectious diseases; chap. 7, insane persons; chap. 28, ferries, (which was amended by giving the advisory council power to grant licenses) and chap. 29, marriages.

The House adjourned at 5:15.

Mr. Haultain made an able reply to Mr. Oliver's address. He was glad to see the honorable gentleman take so high an authority as an infallible one, but it did not matter what Sir John said or what the honorable gentleman would give them to understand, he said his opinion given during a debate could not override a statutory declaration.

Rouleau and Richardson reminded the Assembly that they were not bound by the decision. They could do as they liked.

Mr. Tweed made some remarks, and in referring to Oliver's speech, said that the honorable gentleman who possessed great argumentative force and who generally made himself very clear, had on this occasion lost himself.

Mr. Justice Rondeau, after several members had unloaded themselves, made a very able argument in support of the opinion to which he was a subscriber.

TERRITORIAL.

Locating a Line.

MACLEOD, 2.—The Gazette says the C.P.R. have a staff of men in the Crows Nest Pass exploring a line for the railway to run from Southern Alberta to British Columbia, through the Rocky Mountains with the intention of making it their main Conductor Abe Gunn, the veteran base ball manager, is greatly pleased with the weather of the Northwest. Providing this weather continues a while longer Mr. Gunn contemplates up a base ball tournament at Medicine Hat to take place between Christmas and New Years. The weather at present is very favorable.—Medicine Hat Times.

Circulars have been issued to be forwarded to stockraisers throughout British Columbia, and some of those in the Northwest Territories, asking that a convention be held at Kamloops on the 7th day of January, 1889, for the purpose of forming an association for mutual benefit and protection.—Medicine Hat Times.

The several detachment of the N.W.M.P. stationed along the boundary, with the exception of the one at Milk River Ridge, came in for the winter on the 21st inst. The barracks for the latter place has been built and the detachment stationed there in possession of snug quarters for the winter.—Lethbridge News.

The theatrical entertainments given at the Barracks on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, 20th and 21st inst., when "The Chimney Corner" and "Les Parle Francais" were produced, drew large and attentive audiences on both nights. The acting throughout was very good, all the participants sustaining their respective parts to perfection, more especially was this the case in reference to Capt. Deane and Mr. White Fraser, who in both plays acted as "though to the manner born." The receipts amounted to about $225, which after deducting expenses, go to provide reading matter and other necessities for fitting up the Recreation Room at the Barracks. On Wednesday evening, after the performance, the hall was cleared of the seats, and a dance was indulged in until the wee sma' hours.—Lethbridge News.

THE RANCH.

The Off Color Bug Bear.

The Montreal Gazette publishes a letter on the British cattle markets from its Liverpool correspondent, dated Nov. 17, in which the following reference is made to the last shipment of cattle from Calgary:—"At Glasgow I hear the ranch cattle landed ex Carthagena at Yorkhill were in excellent condition, and as such would have it struck a good market, there being no states cattle forward. I learn privately that these cattle were fed meal on the way, and to this circumstance is largely attributable the fact of their showing up so well. Of course it must not be forgotten that they had a good steamer—none better—and fair weather, and also that they were in charge of a good man, John Lyndon. About half of the consignment were cows and these I am informed did remarkably well, the flesh being singularly free from that greenish hue so much complained of in Liverpool and London. This circumstance is worthy of close attention, because it apparently points to the fact that if the diet of the animals is attended to carefully from the day of their starting off there is every probability that the grassy color of the carcass will be greatly reduced, if, indeed, it is not altogether removed. As I had occasion to observe before, when dairying upon ranch stock, this little objection about the beef being "off color," was made a good deal by the butchers and others, and if it can be put right it means an immense deal to our ranching men. I am pleased to think that the special attention given to the feed by Mr. Bickerdike has resulted so well, and also that the suggestion concerning this first appeared in your Liverpool letter. With a little more patience and a closer investigation of the various properties of our feeding stuffs, I believe the "off color" bugbear will be scared away entirely, and that, in future, Alberta bodies will be on an equality with any Western stock that can be shipped.

Alberta Horses for Export.

Dr. Fream, in his last article in the Morning Post on his recent Northwest travels, has this to say on the question of the export of horses from the Alberta ranches for the English markets:—

Without reference to any particular ranch, it may be said that the horses raised in the Northwest are not, in the opinion of competent judges, of good enough quality for export to England. They run too small, and are not of the stamina required. There is no reason why this should be. The climate, the pasture, the water, are all that could be desired, and there is a number of good stallions in the country. The fault probably lies in the class of brood-mares which has hitherto been used.

The question, therefore, is one for the ranch owners. Let them look to their breeds, and there is no reason why they should not find an excellent European demand for their exports. One horse ranch alone, in the Bow valley, comprises 40,000 acres, the increasing herd upon which numbers about 1,200 head all told, so that we are likely to hear more of this export question in the near future.—Canadian Gazette, Nov. 8.

No Surrender.

OTTAWA 29.—Hon. J. Carling, Minister of agriculture, has stated that the government will not accede to the request of the Montana and United States ranchmen asking them either to withdraw or modify the 90 days' quarantine on cattle coming into Canada. This is due to the United States cattle being at present scheduled in Britain, whereas Canadian cattle are pronounced free from disease. To admit American cattle without quarantine would probably injure trade with Britain.

The Northwest ranching system promises to prove a source of discussion next session. It was always the policy of the department of the Interior to encourage settlers with small capital to go into the industry in the ranching district on the same conditions as big companies, but liberal papers are trying to prove otherwise.

CALGARY AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

The Annual Meeting Elects Officers for 1889 and Transacts General Business.

The annual meeting of the Calgary Agricultural Society was held in the town council chamber yesterday at 2:30 p.m. The president, Amos Rowe, and the secretary J. G. Fitzgerald, were in their places. In opening the business of the meeting the president said the reason the Soc'y was called together in December instead of after the new year as previously, was because the time for holding the annual meeting had been fixed by the Northwest ordinance for the first Monday in December and they had no option in the matter. The president regretted that the members had been so slow in arriving at the meeting, it being after three o'clock before they could proceed to business.

The secretary read the minutes of the annual general meeting held last February, also of the special general meeting held on the 17th of November.

It was moved by H. Munro and seconded by A. C. Carney that the minutes of the annual general meeting be adopted. The mover held that the meeting held in November was not a legal one. He gave his reasons at length, which were chiefly that sufficient notice had not been given of the meeting, so that many members were not present who would have been there had they received notice, also that it being a special meeting, no business could be transacted except that for which it was called, and at the November meeting much business was gone through with of which no notice had been given. Mr. Carney expressed his views, which were the same in the main as those of the mover. The president differed from both and cited precedents. Mr. Reilly thought it would be better to have separate motions for the minutes of the two meetings. This was agreed to and the minutes of the February meeting were adopted.

The president then called for motions on the minutes of the November meeting. Mr. Munro moved that the minutes be not adopted, because the work of the meeting was illegal. He said it was not because he had any desire to obstruct business, but purely from a wish to have the acts of the Society legal and everything placed on a sure foundation so that ten years hence no trouble could arise from irregular work now.

Mr. Braden held that this was a mere reading of what was done and that the vote would be only a statement that the record of proceedings was correct. He moved that the minutes pass. Mr. Munro said that if the validity of the work done could be taken up again he was content to pass the minutes. The president ruled that the passing of the minutes meant the adoption of the work done. Mr. Reilly asked if the adoption of the minutes confirmed the acts, to which the president answered in the affirmative. The principle feature of the work done at the November meeting to which exception was taken by these gentleman, was the appointment of six life officers.

Major Walker said he thought the meeting was drifting from business. He was present at the November meeting and thought that a great deal of important work had been done, such as drawing up by-laws for the Society appointing life members. He said a good site had been obtained, which it would take five years or more to improve as it should be done, and he thought it wise to have a number of members continuously in office so that the plans and work commenced one year would not be liable to continued change by those who did not understand what had been done. After some further discussion the minutes of the November meeting were adopted.

The auditor's report was after discussion adopted.

The question, therefore, is one for the ranch owners. Let them look to their breeds, and there is no reason why they should not find an excellent European demand for their exports. One horse ranch alone, in the Bow valley, comprises 40,000 acres, the increasing herd upon which numbers about 1,200 head all told, so that we are likely to hear more of this export question in the near future.—Canadian Gazette, Nov. 8.

The meeting proceeded to elect officers for the ensuing year. Mr. Rowe was re-elected president by ballot with a large majority. Mr. Samuel Ray was elected first vice-president and Mr. James Banerman second. A very long discussion took place on the appointment of a secretary treasurer. Mr. Fitzgerald positively declined to act, and Mr. Sparrow was elected to succeed him. The meeting by a standing vote tendered their thanks to Mr. Fitzgerald for his services in the past, to which he replied in a very neat speech. A committee of three, H. Munro, A. Allan and Joseph Maw were appointed to get up a testimonial to Mr. Fitzgerald for his most valuable services in the past.

The election of seven directors was then gone on with, resulting in the election of Mr. McPherson, H. Douglas, James Reilly, Bryce Wright, Joseph Maw, A. C. Carney and Joseph Fisher. The meeting then adjourned.

ALBERTA.

Mr. Fitzgerald's Pamphlet on this Country at Last Issued.

The long delayed pamphlet on Alberta, compiled by Mr. Fitzgerald, secretary of the Calgary Agricultural Society, for the government, is out at last and it well comes up to the anticipations as to its excellence. It is undoubtedly the best little work on Alberta yet issued and as it is precise and complete "fills a long felt want" as they say. A commendable feature of the little book is that it is written in a very interesting manner. The person who begins to read it will finish it before laying it aside.

The opening chapters of the pamphlet are devoted to a detailed account, historical and descriptive, of the several districts of Alberta. We quote from the chapter devoted to Calgary:—"The Queen City of the far, far west. This is indeed a charming valley, and as a town site incomparable. The vale, or basin, as it may more properly be termed, is walled on either side by precipitous banks and is surrounded, or appears to be by two rushing, tumbling, sparkling rivers of purest mountain water, the Bow and the Elbow, which find their confluence at the east of the present town of Calgary.

"Westward, Ho! Ye weary, eastern travellers, health seekers and tourists, gaze westward and behold a panorama of beauty, perfect from the Creator's hands. Verdant foothills carpeted with grasses, decked in season with myriad flowers, snow capped peaks towering to the blue vault of heaven, their fleecy whiteness dazzling in the sunlight. Wonder not that you are entranced with the scene.

"Nature indeed has showered with prodigal hand her gifts on this lovely spot."

"The history of the town is a short one, yet marked with strides of progress seldom equalled even in this age of electric advancement.

CORRESPONDENCE.

The HERALD as an exponent of public opinion publishes correspondence from any of its readers so long as it is within the bounds of propriety. The paper does not however, necessarily endorse the opinions expressed by its correspondents. Correspondence to secure insertion must be brief and to the point.

An Emphatic Denial.

To The Editor of the HERALD.

Sir,—It having been brought to my notice that some person or persons have stated that I wish to dispose of my business, and I think maliciously, I wish it to be distinctly understood that I have not by word or deed hinted at such a thing. I therefore wish to give an emphatic denial to that statement. I might add that I should think it an ungracious and ungenerous act after the kind support I have received from the inhabitants of Calgary and the Northwest.

Thanking them sincerely for the generous support accorded me in the past and assuring them in the future that I will use my best endeavors not only to merit that support already accorded me, but by constant attention to business to maintain and increase that confidence which I believe leads to success in business.

I am, ladies and gentlemen, your most obliged and obediently, JOHN FIELD.

A Literary Institution.

Sir,—I think the time has arrived when we should have in our town, either a literary institution or library, where people could meet, not only during the winter evenings for their mutual improvement, but also where any book of reference and record of the progress of the country, could be kept.

I have received the Statistical Record for 1887 from the Minister of the Interior, which is full of valuable information. I should be glad to put it into some public library belonging to the town, where it would be of use to anyone and where it would be taken care of.

I am, sir,

yours sincerely,

A. E. SHELTON.

SPORTING.

A BIG RECEPTION.

Arranged by Toronto Citizens on O'Connor's Return.

TORONTO 30.—An enthusiastic meeting was held at the Queen's hotel and arrangements made to give William O'Connor a grand ovation on his return to this city on Monday. A large amount was subscribed. The demonstration will consist of a torch light procession to the Horticultural Gardens, where O'Connor will be presented with a gold watch and an address by Mayor Clark on behalf of the citizens.

William J. O'Connor, who by Saturday's race becomes champion oarsman of America, was born in Toronto about 25 years ago and first came into prominence in 1882, as a member of the Don amateur rowing club of Toronto. In 1883 he was the senior single champion of Canada, at Hamilton having a short time before, with his partner Enright, won the championship for the doubles from the Laing Bros. He became a professional oarsman in 1883 by challenging Ritz, of Pittsburgh, to race for $1,000 a side, but the latter declined to row. In 1887 he defeated Albert Hamm, but in his next race at Buffalo his boat was swamped and he took only third place, Hanlan winning. In March of this year he defeated Peterson, the Pacific slope champion at San Francisco, and subsequently he met and defeated George Lee, Gaudaur and other good men. He is five feet ten inches in height. His trainer for the race was George Lee.

International Yacht Race.

NEW YORK 30.—Steps have been taken on both sides of the Atlantic to make a great international yacht race in American waters next May, for sloop and cutter yachts in the 40, 50 and 60 foot classes. This world take in the sloops Shamrock, Titania, Katrina, Gracie, Fannie, Papoose, Banshee, Chiquita, Zara, Nymph, and the cutters Yarana, Bedouin, Bayadere, Zephyr and Minerva.

A Roaring Furnace.

LONDON 1.—Last evening a fire broke out in the four storey building occupied by the McClary manufacturing company, the largest stove works in the Dominion. The firemen could do nothing with it, and within thirty minutes the entire main building was a roaring furnace. Floor after floor went, with the finest machinery in the country, until nothing was left but the walls. The loss will be over a hundred thousand dollars. Four firemen were injured by being thrown from a ladder.

That Mine Sale Rumor Again.

WINNIPEG, 29.—It is reported here that the Anthracite coal mine has been sold to an English syndicate for a large sum.

"The history of the town is a short one, yet marked with strides of progress seldom equalled even in this age of electric advancement.

The president then called for motions on the minutes of the November meeting.

Mr. Munro moved that the minutes be not adopted, because the work of the meeting was illegal. He said it was not because he had any desire to obstruct business, but purely from a wish to have the acts of the Society legal and everything placed on a sure foundation so that ten years hence no trouble could arise from irregular work now.

Mr. Braden held that this was a mere reading of what was done and that the vote would be only a statement that the record of proceedings was correct. He moved that the minutes pass. Mr. Munro said that if the validity of the work done could be taken up again he was content to pass the minutes. The president ruled that the passing of the minutes meant the adoption of the work done. Mr. Reilly asked if the adoption of the

Sowing Wheat.

One should be taken to use none but the best of seed saved from crops that were free from rust or smut. Experience has proven drilling to be so superior to broadcast sowing that it is now the most common practice. As good results will commonly follow from 200 pounds of fertilizer to the acre, drilled in, as from double the amount scattered broadcast. It is quite important for the young wheat to get a good start and a vigorous growth of well rooted plants so as to safely pass through the winter and spring. This early start is materially aided by the fertilizer, and besides this, most of our wheat lands are often lacking in one or more necessary elements that commercial manures adapted to the crop will supply.

Commercial Fertilizers.

It is quite true that some farmers are adopting the practice of buying their own chemicals and doing the mixing themselves, but compounding the materials in the right proportion, so as to get just what is needed in a concentrated form, requires skill as well as experience. So many manufacturers are now engaged in the business, with all the appliances necessary for doing the work economically, that it is thought in most cases money will be saved by buying what is wanted already prepared for use. Still there are cases where home made fertilizers compare favorably with those made by manufacturers, and, it is claimed, at a less cost.

Threshing Corn by Machinery.

The idea of threshing corn by machinery, says The American Cultivator, is more popular in theory than in practice. It is well enough on paper to talk of putting through several hundred bushels per day, and tearing the cornstalks to shreds, but it will use more coal to run the engine and require a heavier force to handle cornstalks and grain than is ever got around a thrasher on any other kind of grain.

Broadway's Well Dressed Idlers.

The well dressed idlers who border the sidewalks in front of Broadway hotels above Twenty-third street every afternoon ought to be regarded as "Poor Joe," and ordered by the police to "move on." Their cigarette smoke, mingled with their often not well chosen remarks and criticisms upon passers by, and the evident desire of many to impress the women, make them a nuisance. No gentleman should have the leisure to pose in front of a hotel or any other public place.—New York Mail and Express.

Southern Cultivator calls attention to the fact that barley and rye, though usually sown for their grain, when treated as grazing plants, answer all reasonable demands. In fact, there is no better winter grass than either barley or rye, except that these must be sown annually.

REQUISITION.

To D. W. MARSH, Esq.

DEAR SIR.—We, the undersigned rate-payers of the town of Calgary, in view of the near approach of the civic elections, request that you should permit yourself to be nominated for the honorable office of Mayor of the town.

At this particular juncture in the history of the municipality, when so much of our future prosperity depends upon proper attention being paid to our railway and other interests and to the general municipal policy affecting the same, we recognize the paramount necessity of securing for the office of Mayor a citizen of high ability and unquestioned probity and public spirit; and, Sir, in you we recognize those qualities.

We therefore request that you should allow this nomination to go forward, and in that event we will form ourselves into a committee pledged to exert ourselves to make your election not only a certainty, but to make it, as we believe it will be, as nearly as possible the unanimous expression of the citizens. ## THE WEEK'S LOCAL NEWS

Wednesday.

The Calgary Carriage Company have got out plans for new stables which they find it necessary to erect to keep pace with their increasing business.

Mr. Henry J. Peters, D. L. S., inspector of public works for the Northwest arrived from Regina this morning for the purpose of locating the particular part of the government reserve on section 16 where the court house is to be built.

Mr. James Thompson, manager of the Hudson Bay Co.'s store in Calgary, who got one of his legs badly sprained and bruised by falling into a cattle guard on the C. P. R., while running to the fire which occurred at night some weeks ago on section 16, has so far recovered as to be able to walk round town with the aid of a black thorn.

Some more Dakota farmers arrived here yesterday morning and though they had tickets through to Vancouver, which they got as cheap as they could obtain them to Calgary only. Their tickets being good to stay over for 15 days, they have gone up to the Red Deer district to see the country and the other Dakota families that have settled there. There is every probability that they will take up land at once at the Red Deer.

The meeting in the land office last evening to consider the question of a school for the higher education of girls was fairly attended and considerable interest was manifested. After a mutual discussion, the meeting adjourned to meet again on Tuesday evening next. In the meantime a meeting of the vestry of the Church of the Redeemer will be held to consider a proposal of Mr. Braithwaite's to build a Parochial Hall to be used also as a school.

Chief of police Dillabough states that some person or persons unknown to him sent to his residence yesterday a box containing about one hundred pounds of groceries and other holiday bonbons. As the donor is entirely unknown to the receiver, he takes this method of conveying the thanks of himself and Mrs. Dillabough to the thoughtful giver of those reasonable articles.

Constant and permanent additions are being made to the population of the district by the arrival of the wives and families of men who had come on in advance to prepare homes for them. Mrs. McKenzie, wife of Mr. Hector McKenzie, who has a farm at High river, with her family arrived yesterday from Danville. P. Q. Mrs. McKenzie was much surprised to find the fine, clear mild weather and dry roads that we have here, making such a contrast with what existed all fall at her former home. It has rained almost incessantly there during the last month, the mud being so deep in many places on the roads that waggon wheels would sink almost to the axles.

Thursday.

Mr. Wm. Pearce, inspector of mines and member of the Western Land Board, has been meted out some of the consideration due to him and the requirements of the business in Calgary by the government. His office has been moved from the attic over the land office to the store occupied by E. H. Riley & Co., where papers, maps and books of the department are being put in first rate shape.

Mr. Crick went west by this morning's express. It is reported that he has sold out his business to one of our city merchants.

Miss Wheeler has been engaged by the school trustees as a teacher for the public school, an addition to the teaching staff having been made necessary by the great increase in the number of pupils.

The visit of Mr. Henry J. Peters, inspector of Dominion Public Works for the Western Territories to Calgary yesterday in connection with the location of the new court house, we are informed is likely to result in a material improvement of the design of the buildings. Mr. Peters is going to suggest and advise making a break in the dead flat looking front of the main building by putting up a clock tower, capable of holding a four face clock with 5 feet dials and alarm. He also advocates the addition at once of some offices not contemplated in the original plans.

Some considerable sales of town property have been made of late which bodes well for the future of the town, as these sales were made for cash and to persons who have been acquainted with the town and its prospects for two or three years. Mr. B. H. Moody sold yesterday 37 lots of his own and 4 more on commission for cash at very satisfactory prices. Mr. Moody, who has stayed with the town right along, goes to Winnipeg to sell out if he can, some property he holds there. If he succeeds in doing this he says he will invest every cent of the returns in Calgary property.

The ball given under the auspices of Alberta Lodge I.O.O.F. at the Opera House last night was a complete success. Splendid music, pleasant company, well arranged programme of dances, a splendid supper and able management combined to produce one of the most enjoyable balls ever given in Calgary. The Oddfellows of Calgary always do everything well. There were in all 30 couples present, and the party broke up at 3 this morning. Music was furnished by an orchestra composed of Messrs Eugene Watson, Jas. H. Millward, W. Scollen and Master Forbes McNeil, who accompanied on the piano. A tasteful supper was furnished by Mr F. J. Claxton, who completely surpassed himself.

Friday.

St. Andrews Day.

G. C. Mar-h has just completed by cable the sale of 18 lots on Section 16 to a gentleman in Dublin for the sum of $2,350. Not bad for holiday times!

A St Andrews Day service was held at the Church of the Redeemer this morning when the Bishop of Calgary delivered a practical sermon on missions. Another service will be held this evening.

Mr. Wm. Maitby, of Chicago, the expert who is in charge of the tests being made along the line of Railway by the C. P. R. company for coal in this district, is in town stopping at the Royal Hotel.

Dr W. B. Campbell delivered a very interesting lecture on Robert Burns, the Scottish bard, at the Methodist Church last evening. The lecture partook of the nature of a biographical sketch of the great poet and a review of some of his principal works. Musical illustrations by Mrs Allan and Mr A. G. Crane were much appreciated.

The particulars, so far as can be learned, of the accident by which Mr. Bennett Dobson, section boss on the C. P. R. at Field, lost his life on the 27th inst., are as follows:--Mr. Dobson appears to have been attending to his duties and was riding on a work train about half a mile west of Field station, when by some sudden move of the train, he must have slipped or lost his balance in some way and was caught between the foot boards of cars No. 6,078 and 10,738, dislocating his neck. An inquest was held, and a verdict given in accordance with the above facts. He was only 24 years of age and was considered a trustworthy employee by the company, and was respected by his fellow workmen.

A would be practical joker came very near creating a sensation last night by circulating a report that a man had been found murdered in a shack on section 16 in this town. The report came to the ears of the town police and the chief notified Constable Pennyfather of the N. W. M. P., who made a search of all the places on 16 where they thought it likely the murder could have been perpetrated, but found no trace of it, returning however, they found the door of a small house on Stephen avenue west standing open and what at first looked like the body of a man lying on the floor with the head cut off. On examination however, it was found to be a suit of old clothes stuffed with straw and a hat on the floor a short distance away, fixed up to look like a head that had been severed from the body. The police are of the opinion that it was a dangerous joke. One delicate lady living on 16 with her little children, became so nervous over the report that she left the house and came down town, to get the police to secure some place where she could stay and have company. The city solicitor is of the opinion that had any serious injury resulted to anyone through the attempted joke, the perpetrator would be held responsible for the harm done.

The C. P. R. scales for weighing loaded cars are now ready for use. Mr J. W. Costello, government inspector of weights and measures applied his tests yesterday and declared them correct.

There was no train from the Pacific coast this morning, a slight landslide having occurred west of Donald. A train was made up at Donald for the east and a coach taken off the west-bound train attached to it at Morley. The mails from the west did not reach Calgary.

Mr. Ernest Cochrane has kindly furnished us with some particulars in reference to the shipment of Alberta sheep made from Calgary a few weeks ago by Messrs. Reid & Cormack to England. The shipment was only a small one numbering 430 head, and was made as a test, it being the first lot ever sent across the ocean from here. They were purchased from the British American Ranch Co., by the above enterprising cattle shippers. The lot arrived in England in good order and with less than one per cent of loss. The sheep were favorably received by the English butchers and brought the very respectable price of eight pence sterling per lb., say about 16 cents.

An immense amount of freight is passing over the C. P. R. just now. A large number of long freight trains passed both ways yesterday, amongst which were two train loads of tea running through at such a rate that one would suppose they were out of tea in New York or London.

It will be remembered that we noted the departure last summer of Mr. Hambly, formerly of Beauville, but who had been a resident of Calgary for some time, for Great Falls, Montana. Mr. Hambly returned by this morning's express, bringing brother with him. He expresses himself quite satisfied to get back to Calgary.

Inspector McClelland is getting on well with the frame for the wind pump at the rear of the fire hall. It is now 32 feet high and 16 feet more are to be added to it. When the fans are put into position the whole structure will be about 55 feet high. A double action Curtis pump has been purchased in Toronto through the agent here, Mr. S. A. Ramsay, also a wind power with 12 foot fans. The warranted power of this mill and pump with a light wind is 200 gallons per minute. Under ordinary circumstances all the tanks in town can be filled from the well at the fire hall without the use of the engine at all thus making a large saving in wages and coal. Though it has not been counted on to put out fires with this pump, yet if the engine happened to be out of order and a high wind blowing, 200 gallons per minute could be thrown over any building in the centre of the town.

St. Andrew's Dinner.

The St Andrews Day dinner Friday evening was a complete success. All the Scots in Calgary were there and many of their friends of other nationalities besides. The proceedings were marked by great harmony throughout and also by that enthusiasm characteristic of Scottish gatherings. The dinner was worthy the occasion and reflected the greatest credit upon the popular caterer, Mr. Donahue of the Windsor Hotel.

After ample justice had been done to the good things provided, including the national dish, the immortal haggis, Major Walker, who as president of the Saint Andrews Society occupied the chair, proposed the toast of the Queen. A long list of toasts followed, eliciting speeches in reply as follows:—Army, Navy and Mounted Police, Messrs King and Curry; The day we celebrate, Dr Lafferty and Mr. G Murdoch; The land we live in, Messrs J. A. Lougheed and Jas Reilly; Mother country, Messrs A. Allan and J. G. McKay; Sister societies, G. C. King and W. L. Bernard; Learned professions, Revs Betts Cooper and Herdman and Dr W. B. Campbell, The press, The ladies.

During the evening the following despatches were sent to sister societies celebrating the day:—(Montreal) "We're preppin' haggis and fannin' oursel's the while. Hoo's yer snow drift?" (Vancouver) "Whoo's a wiye in the far wat wast?" (Winnipeg) "Calgary chieft are wiye in speerit the nicht. Hoo's a wiye."
